DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 5, 6, 10-12 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Edwards et al (US 5,536,267).

Edwards discloses a device having a shaft 12, a control structure 18, at least one injury effector and at least one therapeutic-substance delivery effector at the distal end of the shaft by means of element 22 and spaced from one another.

The device is capable of treating ischemic tissue.

3. Claims 1, 5, 6, 10, 11, 17, and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hofmann (US 6,241,701).

Hofmann discloses a device (figs. 1-3, 8-9b, 18a-18b, but better seen in figs.

18a-18b) and having a shaft 1810, a control structure 1812 to be connected to the instrument control, at least one injury effector and at least one therapeutic-substance delivery effector at 1822 at the distal end of the shaft. The device is capable of treating ischemic tissue.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed October 20, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

5. In response to applicant's argument that neither Edwards nor Hofmann teaches the treatment of ischemic tissue to promote blood vessel growth and tissue regeneration, a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963).

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
